

The $16 million dollar revitalization of the Sheraton Kauai Resort has established its mark as Poipu Beach's most stylish Playground. The refreshed tropical oasis includes a new Ocean front swimming pool, lobby, porte cochere and an enticing new meeting facility, Luana Kai. The South Shore restaurant scene also heats up with the soon to open RumFire and Lava's at Poipu Beach where it's ok to play with fire!

Be on the lookout for these exciting activities and developments at the Sheraton Kauai Resort in 2012:

- Executive Chef Leanne Kamekona knows a few things about heat. Growing up on the island of Hawaii (Big Island) surrounded by two active volcanoes, she was the perfect choice to debut Kauai's hottest new restaurants, Lava's on Poipu Beach and the ultimate beachside hot spot, RumFire. Kamekona's sizzling menu at Lava's includes an ahi wasabi lavawich paired with a mountain size cocktail for two aptly named the Lava Explosion. RumFire Restaurant is set to ignite in March, 2012. This hip new restaurant will bring together global fusion cuisine with the largest selection of rum in Kauai. The sophisticated interior design will feature a lava rock oven and private fire pit lounges.
- At the Sheraton Kauai, here today, gone to Hawaii doesn't mean out of touch, with the new Link Café powered by Link@Sheraton. This unique lobby lounge enables today's travelers to stay connected with instant access to information and technology for work, leisure and social networking all with breathtaking views of the Pacific Ocean.
- Chip Bahouth, the Sheraton Kauai's General Manager would make his father proud. Bahouth is a second generation hotelier in Hawaii. It made perfect sense to take on the challenge of transforming this island gem, because as a boy his father also managed the Sheraton Kauai. Bahouth has fond childhood memories of that time in his life and continues in his father's footsteps to create lasting memories of his own.
- The Sheraton Kauai's new Community Table is making a huge difference for the Hawaii Food Bank on Kauai. Each day a table is designated in the restaurant with all proceeds from that table donated to this worthy cause. This is the first of its kind in a Hawaii restaurant, establishing Sheraton Kauai Resort's commitment to the needs of its community.
