Featuring a farm-to-table buffet style concept, Kai Market uses only the freshest local ingredients from Hawaii farmers and menus that change nightly. Local family recipes and traditional dishes that the people of Hawaii have enjoyed for decades provide guests with the opportunity to experience the flavors and ingredients of Hawaii. Plantation nights at Kai Market will inspire the sights, sound and tastes of yesteryear with the delivery of a modern and upscale dining event.

RUMFIRE

RumFire is Waikiki's hippest place to be and be seen. Set against the alluring backdrop of Diamond Head, the oceanfront hideaway offers 101 different types of rum, the largest selection of vintage rum in the United States. The unique Hawaiian fusion menu highlights "bahawaiian" cuisine. Known as "west-meets-west," the food is a local fiesta of the Baja Coast mixed with Hawaiian style! RumFire's menu mixes the spicy, hot sizzle of Baja with the fresh, cool tropical touches of Waikiki. This is a recipe for fun that makes RumFire the best place to catch that "Waikiki wave."
